PRICE TWO CENTS

BIG REDUCTION IN TAX RATE FOR 1914 UNDER NEW BUDGET

Rate This Year to Be Twenty-three Mills, One of Which Is for School Purposes

STATE AND COUNTY TAX DECREASES

City's Share of This to Be $53,600 Less Than Last Year, According to Figures Secured Today

PARKS AND SCHOOLS GET INCREASES

$118,000 Allowed for Educational Purposes and Beauty Spots Get Additional $5,000

A reduction of two mills in the city tax rate over last year will result if the common council tonight adopts the budget. O. K. d. this afternoon by the council finance committee and prepared by William J. Freis, city controller.

The rate this year will be twenty-two mills plus one mill for school purposes, while last year the rate was twenty-three mills, plus two mills for school purposes.

A reduction of $53,600 in the state and county tax makes the decrease in the tax rate possible. Last year the city's share of the state and county tax was $130,000 while this year La Crosse pays but $136,000 for this purpose.

The revised budget includes a $10,000 appropriation this year for parks, $5,000 more than last year. This makes possible the completion of Levee park, J. M. Hixon, member of the park board, having agreed to have the work on the park completed if the appropriation is increased $5,000. His promise meant a purely personal donation of several thousands of dollars.

Schools, in the new budget, are allowed $118,000, the full amount requested by Superintendent Louis P. Benetzel.

MEXICAN PEACE DOVE TAKES WING

Villa Charges Carranza With Breaking Faith And Announces He Will Drive Him From Mexico

EL PASO, Texas, Nov. 18.—General Francisco Villa has announced that General Venustiano Carranza has broken faith and that the Villista troops will drive him from Mexico, according to dispatches received from Mexico today. The same advices are that fighting has occurred in the state of Guanajuato.

According to messages, Irapuato, Guanajuato state has been occupied by Villa's army after a fight lasting half a day. Gen. Miguel Diezgo and his Jalisco troops opposed the occupation, but were defeated and retreated towards Guadalajara. Troops have been sent in pursuit of them.

Following the occupation of Irapuato, the dispatches report that a force of Villistas was also sent to occupy Queretaro. Gen. Villa is said to be in command of these operations.

AUSTRIAN HOSPITALS APPEAL TO U. S. FOR DRESSINGS FOR WOUNDS

"The greatest complaint in America is the over supply of cotton. In Austria wounded men are dying in agony for lack of a few ounces of it. And soon it will be Christmas time throughout the world."—William G. Shepherd.

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
VIENNA, Oct. 17, By Mail to New York.—To the American Citizen, Hometown, U. S. A.:

If Christmas means anything to you, here is your opportunity. This has nothing to do with the war. It is about humanity. It is neutral—as neutral as pain and sympathy are universal.

For three weeks the hospitals here have been absolutely without cotton to dress the wounds of the dying soldiers. The American Red Cross corps, which arrived yesterday, brought a small supply which was immediately distributed among the hospitals and will last only a few days, even with the most careful use.

Doctors and nurses are forced to use small bags of threads. Everybody in Vienna who can't help in any other way spends spare time unraveling small squares of cloth, cut from sheets and handkerchiefs. The short pieces of thread are sewed into bags of gauze, which are sterilized. The most delicate wounds must be dressed with this rough, harsh material.

Americans, in the name of humanity, ought to send cotton to Austria. No other country can help in this way. The greatest complaint in America is the over-supply of cotton. In Austria wounded men are dying in agony for lack of a few ounces of it. And soon it will be Christmas time throughout the world.

Can Use Parcel Post
By parcel post a vast quantity of absorbent cotton can be sent to Vienna if American citizens will take upon themselves the personal responsibility of each buying and mailing, at parcel post rates, a small bag of cotton. If the package is addressed to the Red Cross, Vienna, and is marked "Watte Fur Die Verwundeten" (cotton for the wounded), it will reach the hospitals within three weeks from the time it is posted in America. It should easily reach here before Christmas.

I have ascertained the exact situation in regard to the supply of cotton in hospitals. There is none. Even the supply of hospital gauze is giving out. Nurses are using only two inch squares of gauze for cleaning purposes instead of the regulation gauze of handkerchief size. More gauze, it is believed, can be manufactured in Austria. But cotton for hospitals must be supplied from outside.

Wounded men, with bad sores, suffer exquisitely for lack of soft cotton dressing. Head wounds, where portions of the skull are broken away, cannot be safely dressed but with softest cotton.

Nurses tell me the most distressing stories of being forced to use the clumsy and harsh bags of ravelings on wounds where the most delicate nerves are exposed. A bag of ravelings, dipped in benzine, is the means by which the first washing is given to all wounds except the most delicate and dangerous.

Everyone Raveles
Mrs. Frederick Penfield, the wife of the American ambassador, has taken up the work in the very small American colony, of starting "raveling parties." Mrs. Hamilton Kruger, an American artist, is at engaged in this work. In the cafes and restaurants men and women "ravel" in the street cars and stores no hands are idle.

The American government, for official reason, may not be able to send cotton to Austria, but private American citizens may act with the Red Cross, in the name of humanity, and help by making their shipments by parcel post.

Two weeks ago, 300 men, all terribly wounded by shrapnel, were brought into the station at Vienna. They had traveled seventy-five hours from the battlefield in Galicia, near Lemberg.

Endless Chain in Cincinnati
CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 18.—Absorbent cotton by the ton will be sent to Red Cross hospitals of Vienna by Cincinnati clubwomen, according to plans formed by them today in response to the appeal sent by Correspondent W. G. Shepherd of the United Press. Mrs. Henry Backus, president of the Cincinnati Woman's Civic league, started an endless chain of workers on the mission of mercy.

LAUNCH OF U. S. BATTLESHIP TENNESSEE FIRED UPON IN HARBOR AT SMYRNA BY TURKS

RUSSIA DISSATISFIED WITH WORK OF ALLIES WOULD TURN TO TURKS

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Driving with terrific force into Russian Poland between the Vistula and Warthe rivers, the German army which advanced from Thorn has now regained approximately one-third of the territory which was lost in the recent retreat from Warsaw to the Prussian frontier.

A great battle is now raging along a seventy-five mile front in this section. The Germans are endeavoring completely to crush the Russian offensive directed toward Thorn and Posen, while the Russians are making a determined effort to check what might develop into another dash upon Warsaw.

COPENHAGEN, Nov. 18.—The first signs of dissatisfaction in Russia with the part the other allied nations are playing in the war against Germany are declared to be evident in Petrograd.

Reports here declare Russian authorities are pointing to the fact that despite the invasion of the czar's troops in Galicia and East Prussia, the French and English have been unable to drive the Germans from France, though the kaiser weakened his forces in the west in order to combat the Russian advance. It is now admitted the Germans have been able to resume the offensive from Thorn and are again pressing forward in Poland toward Plock.

With Turkey now in the war, Russian sentiment is beginning to favor a concentration of strength upon the muslims. Russia has much more to gain by the capture of Constantinople than in any invasion of Germany. It is pointed out, therefore, that as the allies on the west have failed to gain advantage as a result of division of the German strength due to the Russian advance on the east, a practical abandonment of the invasion of East Prussia may come if the western allies have not cleared France of the Germans by the first of the year.

BERLIN SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS AGAINST RUSSIANS

Muscovite Force Advancing on Thorn Beaten at Lipno Now Falling Back Upon Plock

PRESSING RIGHT FLANK FROM SOLDA

Expected Russians Will Give Battle Instead of Re-crossing the Vistula

BERLIN, Via The Hague, Nov. 18.—Satisfactory progress of the operations in the east, with the western campaign still hampered by bad weather, was the declaration in the war official statement today.

The Russian army, which was advancing upon Thorn, but was defeated at Lipno, is now believed to have fallen back as far as Plock. Pressure is now being exerted on the Russian right wing from Solda. Roads in western Russia are declared to be in bad condition, and it is expected the Russians will give battle, rather than attempt a general retirement behind the Vistula.

HUNDRED MILLION DOLLAR COTTON POOL IS COMPLETED

Fund is Available Today to Southern Banks Holding Class B Certificates—To Loan on Cotton at 6 Cents

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Completion of $100,000,000 subscriptions to the "cotton pool" plan was halted today by treasury department officials as proof of their previous predictions that it would not fail.

The fund today was available to southern banks who subscribe to "Class B" certificates. Loans will be made on cotton at 6 cents a pound.

Completion of the fund was made possible through a $3,000,000 contribution from Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and B. M. Baruch. Secretary McAdoo today held that the pool would mean not only improvement in the cotton and foreign exchange situations, but also in promoting the general prosperity of the country.

BOILER EXPLODES; TWO DIE

MONROE, La., Nov. 18.—Two men were killed and six injured when a boiler exploded in the shingle mill here today. Parts of the boiler were scattered over three blocks and the havoc wrought in the mill resembled the work of a tornado.

COLD KILLS MILWAUKEEAN

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 18.—The first victim of the cold wave in Milwaukee was found here today. Ladislau Koneski, 45, was picked up on the south side, dying from exposure. He had fallen against the curb and been stunned.

TEN DIE IN FIRE

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 18.—Eight inmates and two guards lost their lives in a fire which today destroyed the Florida State Reform school at Marianna.

NO DETAILS OF MATTER EXCEPT BARE FACT KNOWN

United States Will "Mark Time" Until Report of Incident Is Made in Full by Captain Decker

WILSON ANXIOUS OVER AFFAIR

State Department Is Out of Communication with Ambassador Morgenthau at Porte

NO IMMEDIATE CAUSE FOR ALARM

Shot May Have Been Fired as Warning to Keep the Vessel Away from Hostile Mine Field

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Admitting that a shot had been fired at a launch from the cruiser Tennessee, flying the stars and stripes in Turkish waters, high administration officials today declared emphatically that there was no immediate cause for alarm. The fact that the shot had been fired is all that is at present known by the navy department. Secretary of the Navy Daniels had demanded complete information from Captain Benton C. Decker of the cruiser.

In the absence of these particulars, the United States will "mark time."

The Tennessee is now in the Turkish harbor of Chios. It was from there that Captain Decker's preliminary report was received by the navy department. According to this report, the cruiser had sent a launch to Smyrna to investigate conditions there and to determine how much truth was in the report that American interests in Smyrna were in danger, and that Europeans in that city were in peril.

Secretary Daniels reported the matter to President Wilson and then took up consideration of it with Acting Secretary of State Lansing. The latter at once attempted to get into communication with Ambassador Morgenthau, at Constantinople.

"Boat" Fired On
The report from Captain Decker, according to the information made public by Secretary Daniels said that his "boat" had been fired on. This was interpreted as meaning the cruiser Tennessee herself, but later the officials of the bureau of navigation interpreted it as meaning that it was one of the cruiser's launches.

Secretary Daniels, in discussing the matter, said: "The information we have at the present time is indefinite. That a shot was fired is all that we know. Whether it was fired with hostile intent, or as a warning, is yet to be explained by Captain Decker. Smyrna now is a closed port. The presumption is that it is mined. Land forts may have fired a shot either to prevent the launch, or even possibly the Tennessee itself—from entering the harbor or from running on a mine field. I hope that this can be proved the case. But in any event we cannot take any steps in the matter until we have the official facts before us."

Wilson Anxious
President Wilson anxiously awaited all information on the subject. He directed that all reports received be sent directly to him. Incidentally it was learned that he expressed confidence that the occurrence would not become an international incident.

A rumor received here via Montreal that Ambassador Morgenthau had demanded his passports was characterized at both the state department and the White house as utterly absurd. It was stated that the ambassador has been extremely friendly to the Turkish government at Constantinople and that his work there has been highly praised by the Turkish officials themselves. It was pointed out that he of his own volition, could not demand his passports.

No Word for Two Days

Acting Secretary of State Lansing asserted that he has been out of touch with Constantinople for two days. This is due to the interruption of certain direct cable communications, and also to the fact that the messages have to pass through the territory of belligerents in the European war zone. So far as direct communication with Smyrna is concerned, the secretary said that all word from and to Asia Minor took from two to five days.

The state department is trying its best to get into communication with

AMERICAN AMMUNITION PLANTS
WORK OVER-TIME DURING WAR

Output of Death-Dealing Missiles Increases 1,000 Per Cent and Many Orders are Refused

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The American output of death dealing missiles has increased 1,000 per cent since the European war began. Orders for such enormous quantities of ammunition have been placed in this country by foreign governments that double day and night shifts are employed in every eastern factory, a prominent arms manufacturer admitted today.

Because of these conditions, it was declared, if need for such ammunition should arise, the United States would use up its present supply within a week and be compelled to use the "hand to mouth system" to feed its guns of this calibre.

Within the last few weeks the demand has grown to such an extent that hundreds of orders have been turned down.

SCHOOL GIRLS ELOPE

HARTFORD CITY, Ind., Nov. 18.—Rather than attend school under the compulsory education law, two young girls, Miss Merle Fogle, 15, and Miss Carrie Wilson, 13, slipped away from home and eloped with their chosen ones to Kentucky. Their marriages were not discovered until the truant officer came today to serve notice on the parents to place the children in school.

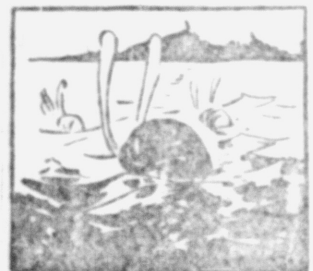

SHOOT'S MAN WHO CALLS KAISER MUTT

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—John Stroble, an aged German, sat on the edge of his bed early today reading a German newspaper's accounts of the fighting in Flanders. John Heffron, an Englishman, and Peter Linsky, a Swede, roomers in the same house, dropped in and took chairs.

"The Kaiser in a mutt," said Heffron, "he ought to be in jail." Stroble drew a revolver from under his pillow and fired twice. Heffron fell over dead and Linsky fled with a bullet in his shoulder. Stroble was captured trying to board a street car.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

The Argonaut And His Fairy Ship.

She Rode Gallantly Upon the Sunlit Sea.

"I WANT to go up on top of the water and sail a little while," cried the tiny argonaut as his mamma rocked him gently in his beautiful cradle down at the bottom of the sea," said daddy, beginning his bedtime story.

"But we can't go up now, dearie. There is going to be a terrible storm and you must stay down here all comfy and safe," said his mamma.

"But the tiny argonaut, as this fish is called, which lives away out in midocean and sails in a beautiful ship, was unhappy and discontented down at the bottom of the sea.

"The wonders of the ocean, which it knew all about and lived among every hour of the twenty-four, seemed very tame, and it sighed to be up on top of the ocean sailing and seeing the sights up there.

"Patiently Mamma Argonaut explained and argued, but little Argonaut wouldn't listen.

"So at last Mamma Argonaut was persuaded, and she spread her arms and rose to the surface of the ocean, carrying the tiny argonaut with her in the fairy ship.

"Mamma Argonaut has eight arms, you know, kiddies, but two of them are flattened out at the end, so they make very nice sails, and I suppose the six other long, narrow, tapering arms are used to help balance and navigate the fairy ship, though it is mainly carried through the water by a funny siphon system, which I will explain to you when you grow a little older.

"Now, Mamma Argonaut feared the storm because she only sits in her fragile boat, and if she were to be tossed and pitched about by the waves she might lose her beautiful ship.

"When she got to the top of the ocean, though, the storm had blown away and the sun was just setting over the sea. A whole fleet of her friends and neighbors had joined her, and they spread their tiny sails and rode gallantly upon the calm sunlit sea decked in a thousand brilliant colors.

"There: what did I tell you?" said the little Argonaut, peeping out from the fairy ship where it snuggled beside its mother.

"Oh, well, when you grow older and have little ones of your own to care for you won't be so bold," said Mamma Argonaut, catching the slight evening breeze with her wings and sailing very fast, indeed, which pleased the little Argonaut very much.

"Pretty soon a great ship was seen in the offing, and then Mamma Argonaut folded her sails and sank down, down to the bottom of the sea.

"Good night, kiddies."

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

GREEN TAXICABS

By MICHAEL J. PORTER

(Copyright, 1914, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Dr. Eastman sat before his desk with a telephone receiver at his ear. The voice that came over the wire was the impatient one of a busy man.

"I will send her to your office in a taxicab. I have told her that you are a real estate agent who will take her to look at a house in Westchester. I told you she had a mania for buying real estate, and I can't interest her in anything else. She is so suspicious that I have had to concoct this scheme in order that you may take her to Dr. Widdle's for observation. Once there, I presume, she can be easily persuaded to remain."

"It seems rather a clumsy method of getting your ward to the sanitarium, but if that is the arrangement you made with Dr. Gray, I must carry it out. I am sorry that his serious illness prevents him from taking care of the matter himself. Miss Trimble has been under his care and she would have more confidence in him than in a perfect stranger. Still, I will do as you request, and we will telephone you from Dr. Widdle's. Suppose you arrange for her to be here at 3 o'clock."

"Three o'clock. Remember to look for a green taxicab at your door. Just run down the steps, tell her you are Mr. Eastman, the real estate agent and use the letter I have sent you for the purpose. Drive her off as fast as possible. Of course, the whole affair is quite unconventional, but the very suggestion of going to Widdle's would drive her to hysteria. It is a delicate mission and I'm placing entire confidence in you, Dr. Eastman."

"I will do my best, Mr. Smith," said the doctor as he hung up the receiver.

He paced up and down the room with his chin on his breast. He was averse to carrying out the clumsy plan of Jonas Smith's to have his ward, Margaret Trimble, placed under restraint pending an investigation of her mental condition. Miss Trimble had been dissipating a vast fortune in reckless real estate speculations. If Jonas Smith had been one of his own patients, as well as Miss Trimble, Dr. Eastman would have made a strenuous objection to the plan; but they were Dr. Gray's wealthiest patients, and in the illness of his confere the younger man did not wish to offend Jonas Smith. Hence his consent.

At 3 o'clock he put on a straw hat and went down the steps to the sidewalk where a green taxicab waited at the curb.

With a word to the chauffeur, Dr. Eastman opened the door, stepped inside and seated himself beside a young woman who was gazing intently out of the opposite window.

She did not turn her head until the car started and then it was to say carelessly: "You've been a long while, Tom."

"I'm sorry," said the surprised physician, apologetically, and at the sound of his voice she turned great brown eyes upon him and uttered a cry of alarm.

"Oh, who are you?" she asked indignantly. "What are you doing here?" She lifted the speaking tube and spoke to the chauffeur. "Stop the car!" she ordered.

The man on the seat outside did not turn his head but drove steadily on; if anything, their speed increased.

The girl turned to the physician with blazing eyes.

"You coward!" she exclaimed. "Miss Trimble," he said gently; "pray don't excite yourself. I am Mr. Eastman, the real estate agent your guardian recommended. You may remember I am to show you a house in Westchester."

"You have made an absurd mistake," said the girl coldly. "I am not Miss Trimble—I do not know what you are talking about."

The doctor repeated his words patiently. "You may remember," he added, "that you particularly wished to see a place in Westchester county—an old colonial mansion which is for sale. Mr. Smith wished me to show it to you."

"Who is Mr. Smith?" she asked curiously.

"Jonas Smith, the banker."

"I have heard of him," she said slowly.

"I was positive you would recollect the circumstances, Miss Trimble," said the doctor, wiping his perspiring brow. This young woman with black-lashed brown eyes was beautiful, indeed. A rich color came and went in her cheeks, and under the brim of her white hat her black hair curved softly against her temples. A little smile hovered around her lips and her hands played nervously with a silver-meshed purse.

"How long will it take us to inspect the place and return?" she asked after a while. "I have an engagement at 6 o'clock."

"It is not a long ride," evaded the physician. "I have directed the chauffeur to lose no time. Perhaps you would like to look over the photographs of the house now. It is a very attractive property."

"Thank you," said the girl demurely, as she took the papers that Jonas Smith had sent to him for the purpose. "It seems a beautiful estate, but as I am as poor as a church mouse I am afraid you are wasting your time. I could not possibly buy it."

The physician was silent. It was a very embarrassing situation for him, this kidnapping of a beautiful young lady, who appeared to be as sane as himself. Her denial of her own identity convinced him that she was deranged, as her guardian had testified. Also her remarks concerning her poverty were indications of insanity.

If he could interest her until they reached Dr. Widdle's sanitarium he would turn her over to the kindly care of that great specialist with unqualified relief. The whole situation was repugnant to him.

He stole a glance at her. She was the sort of a girl he might have fallen in love with if he had met her under different circumstances. He surprised a frightened furtive glance from the lovely eyes.

She suspected him—she was afraid! He began to talk about the house that he was taking her to inspect.

In his earnest endeavor to interest her wavering attention, Dr. Eastman grew quite incoherent in his laudation of the Westchester estate. He knew as little about real estate as the average busy practitioner and he was desperately aware that he had betrayed his ignorance of the subject.

Sun parlors and kitchen gardens, rose walks and back stairs were confused together; in one sentence he burdened the house with an observation tower, and in another he called it a "colonial bungalow," whatever that might be. He averred that there was an Italian garden, and he recklessly placed nine bathrooms in the house when the plans plainly revealed but five.

Suddenly the girl tilted back her head and laughed. "I wouldn't miss seeing that place for anything," she gurgled. "There can't be another like it in the world, Mr. Eastman!"

"There isn't," he said gloomily, and cooled by her mirth at his expense he sunk into dignified silence.

Presently the girl allowed the photographs to slip to the floor, while she turned to the window and looked dreamily out at the fleeting scenery. If she was familiar with the roads hereabouts she might wonder at the route they were taking, but she said nothing, and Dr. Eastman saw with relief that they were nearing the gates of the sanitarium.

As they shot through the wide entrance and heard the heavy iron gates clang menacingly behind them the girl whirled about with amazed face.

"You have deceived me," she said contemptuously. "Why are you bringing me here?"

"Please, please calm yourself, Miss Trimble," begged the young doctor.

"I am quite calm, thank you," she retorted. "Remember please, that I am not Miss Trimble. I never heard of Miss Trimble, and the instant we are within the doors yonder I shall turn you over to the proper authorities."

"I hope you will," groaned the unhappy doctor.

The taxicab rolled under the porte cochere. The chauffeur opened the door. Dr. Eastman stepped out, and disdaining his offered hand, his companion slipped hastily past him and ran into the house. He was so close at her heels that Dr. Widdle, who had been appraised of their arrival and was coming down the corridor to meet them, saw them standing together.

"Well, well, well, my bonny Jean!" cried the grizzled doctor, as he took Miss Trimble into his ample embrace. "Thought you'd come and see your old uncle, eh?"

"Uncle?" murmured the distracted Eastman; "the man's carrying the farce too far!" He stepped forward.

"Why hello there, Eastman!" greeted the specialist. "I was expecting you, but—where is Miss Trimble?"

"Here," replied the young doctor, feebly.

The girl turned a pink face from Dr. Widdle's shoulder. "Oh, Uncle Sam, I've had such a dreadful time! This—this man entered my taxi while I was waiting for Tom, and under pretense of being a real estate agent he has driven me here—of all places in the world where I would be safest! He's as insane as he can be!"

Dr. Widdle looked on the doctor's handsome indignant countenance to the disturbed lovely one on his shoulder.

Then a deep, rumbling roar of laughter echoed through the long corridor of the sanitarium. "So he thought you were Margaret Trimble? Bless my soul but that is a good joke!"

It was some time before Dr. Eastman really understood what had happened, and how he, through a stupid mistake, had entered the taxicab of Miss Jean Widdle, niece of the great specialist, who was waiting for her brother Tom, who was in the shop further down the street.

"Then what has become of Miss Margaret Trimble?" asked Dr. Eastman.

Before Dr. Widdle could frame a reply a nurse came in and reported that Jonas Smith wanted to talk to the specialist. "He telephones that his ward, Miss Trimble sailed for Europe this morning. He has just discovered her flight."

Dr. Eastman was left alone with Jean Widdle. Both stared out of the window; then as if aware that more agreeable views might be had within the room, as if by one accord their eyes met in a long gaze.

"I hope you will forgive me," pleaded the doctor penitently.

"Yes," said Jean gently. "Of course, it was not your fault, and—really, Dr. Eastman, I thought I was locked up with a lunatic! When you were describing—that—house—I really thought you had lost your reason!" She laughed deliciously.

Dr. Eastman joined her mirth, but he registered a resolve that later on he would tell her that although he had not lost his reason, he had lost his heart.

KIDNAPED GIRL IS DRESSED AS BOY

KOKOMO, Ind., Nov. 18.—Little Grace Howard, aged 4, donned her girl clothes again today for the first time in two months. She was so glad to be a girlie again. Mrs. Charles C. Howard has sought for her child since September 14. The girl was kidnapped that day by her father, dressed in boy's clothing with hair bobbed, and was taken to Ulrich, Mo. Kansas City detectives found her. Howard has been divorced by Mrs. Howard.

UPSETTING TO
SNAP JUDGMENT

The latest developments in the Mexican political tangle make it necessary for a good many of us to change our opinion of Mexican men and motives. With a distinctively American superiority, many of us have judged that the Mexican language was lacking in synonyms for patriotism and disinterestedness. With unconcealed contempt for the ruffling Mexican statecraft, we have, out of hand, branded Mexican leaders in the lump braves and self-seekers.

What shall those of us who have held this opinion say to the agreement of "Bandid" Villa and "First Chief" Carranza to enter upon voluntary exile that their personal feud may not keep peace from their country?

CONSERVATIVE

Viewed in conjunction with the statement of an official of the United States steel corporation at Gary on Monday, that "the bottom had dropped out" of the business depression in the United States, and the resumption of operation in all lines of the steel trade at that place, the review of business conditions up to November 1, just sent out by the First National Bank of Boston, sounds distinctly a reassuring note.

Couched in a vein almost of surprise that the country should so well have withstood the shock to its business equilibrium occasioned by the outbreak of war, the New England bank says:

"There is a feeling of greater courage throughout New England, and a disposition to make forward commitments, which would not have been considered sixty or even thirty days ago. Apparently the main reason for this attitude lies in the fact that order has been brought out of chaos in the financial situation, thereby putting the way for a recovery in business later on. In the first place, the money situation is rapidly getting on an even keel, national banks have their reserves in good shape, and the New York banks have wiped out their deficit and accumulated a fair-sized surplus. These facts have resulted in easier money conditions which, to a large extent, form the basis of hopeful predictions expressed in various lines of trade. Of first importance was the ending of the English and French moratoria, which was accomplished without a jar. Our new banking system is organized, and the lower reserves required by the new act will make for a freer use of credit. Clearing house certificates are out of the way and the retiring of emergency currency has begun, a result which very few men, sixty days ago, would have ventured to prophesy. The foreign exchange situation has worked out naturally, owing to the heavy increase in exports, coupled with a sharp decrease in imports. This favorable trade balance has made it unnecessary for the 'gold pool' to operate on a large scale, but the moral effect of this fund has been great. Thus far the management have called on 25 per cent of the proposed fund, and of this amount they have already returned 10 per cent to the contributors."

The only branch of industry upon which the review is pessimistic is the steel trade. The opinion voiced is that a revival is not to be expected until after New Year's. It is with pleasure that we call attention to the apparent fact that the revival has outstripped the prediction by about six weeks.

WISELY BE THE
"EARLY BIRD"

People who expect to purchase toys and other holiday articles largely the product of foreign manufacture should embrace the earliest convenient opportunity to secure them. The war interrupted delivery, and but a small percentage of the goods ordered actually reached the American dealers. Could this class of merchandise be supplemented by good articles of American manufacture the accident of war might be a blessing through its influence upon the purchase of home-made goods, but at the late date of the interruption there was little opportunity for American manufacturers to make good the deficiency, and the result is a pronounced shortage in the better quality of Christmas articles. Doubtless the United States will make these things for home consumption next year, but in 1914 the provident shopper will "take time by the forelock."

The office strategist says the reason Villa and Carranza agreed to leave Mexico was that they want to go to Europe and get a few lessons in real war, for use in clearing up their misunderstanding.

Agents of the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving should be able vastly to increase their membership this holiday season by setting up in Europe.

If it had been a spinster that found that man under her bed on the north side, we venture to say it would have been a job for the county clerk instead of the police.

Nice little Christmas surprise Villa and Carranza gave to Mexico, wasn't it? Made the nation presents of their absence, one might say.

The Hand That Rules the World
They say that man is mighty, he governs land and sea;
He wields a mighty sceptre o'er lesser powers than he;
By a mightier power and stronger
man from his throne is hurled,
And the hand that rocks the cradle
is the hand that rules the world.

Blessings on the hand of woman!
Angels guard its strength and grace,
In the palace, cottage, hovel, O, no matter where the place!
Would that never storms assailed it,
rainbows ever gently curled;
For the hand that rocks the cradle is
the hand that rules the world.

Infancy's the tender fountain, power
may with beauty flow;
Mother's first to guide the stream-
lets, from them souls unresting
grow;
Grow on for the good or evil; sunshine streamed or darkness
hurled;
For the hand that rocks the cradle is
the hand that rules the world.

Woman, how divine your mission
here upon our natal sod!
Keep, O, keep, the young heart open always to the breath of God!
All true trophies of the ages are
from mother love impieared.
For the hand that rocks the cradle is
the hand that rules the world.

Blessings on the hand of woman!
fathers, sons and daughters
cry,
And the sacred song is mingled with the worship in the sky—
Mingles where no tempest darkens,
rainbows evermore are curled;
For the hand that rocks the cradle is
the hand that rules the world.

He Didn't Care
The usual large crowd was gathered at the New York end of the Brooklyn bridge waiting for trolley cars. An elderly lady, flustered and fussy, dug her elbows into convenient ribs, irrespective of owners.
A fat man on her left was the recipient of a particularly vicious jab.
She yelled at him, "Say!"

He winced slightly and moved to one side.
She, too, sidestepped and thumped
him vigorously on the back.
"Say," she persisted, "does it make any difference which of these cars I take to Greenwood cemetery?"

"Not to me, madam," he answered, slipping through an opening in the crowd.

felt no desire to live."

"Three bottles of Peruna made me look at life in a different light,
as I began to regain my lost

nearly four months, at the end of that time I was better than I ever had been before. I had a splendid

Too Much Shirt

The wife of a prominent judge was making arrangements with the colored laundress of the village to take charge of their washing for the summer. Now, the judge was pompous and extremely fat. He tipped the scales at some 300 pounds.

"Missus," said the woman, "I'll do your washing, but I've gwine ter charge you double for your husband's shirts."

"Why, what's the reason for that,
Nancy?" questioned the mistress.
"Well," said the laundress, "I don't mind washing for an ordinary man, but I draw the line on circus tents, I sho' do."

"Perhaps there is some way to get out of the house—to eliminate myself?" he suggested.
"Except for this gate and the side entrance, there is no way," she answered feverishly.
"Isn't there a canal at the back?"
Thought I heard one go singing by."
"There is a canal but—" She turned to the servant. "Go to the side door. Find some excuse to keep them out yet, just a little while.
Say I am considering—say anything—that we will open in a few minutes."

The man nodded hastily and vanished. His eyes were compres-sive but dubious.

"You were saying there is a canal?"
"I continued the dervish briskly.
"Any windows looking out upon it?"
"Only a basement window. But you must not go that way."
"Must not—from a wife."

"The canal is swift and deep just
now. The mountain rains have made it more a torrent than a canal.
It is very dangerous."

"And I might get drowned? That wouldn't do," he laughed.

She did not answer. Her glance swept nervously toward the house.
"I can think of nothing!—nothing!" There was helplessness, almost despair in her voice.

"Which brings us back to the canal," said the dervish cheerfully.
"Some one has to decide, and in this case, I don't think there is much time."

"Then I'll exercise a husband's prerogative, and command. The aqueous exit! So be it. There!
there!" he raised his hand. "Not a word. It is determined. I am authority itself. And now, another thing—to get out of Damascus safely, I must discard these garments.
I must have others. Don't contradict me. We haven't a minute to waste, unless you know the alternative. Just listen and obey." Even in that moment of emergency her eyes dilated slightly. He was certainly most unceremonious in his manner for a nameless vagabond of the desert. "Can you find me an extra suit of your man's?" he demanded.

"Yes, yes," said the girl.
"Then get it for me."
Just an instant she hesitated;
then—"Come!" she said hastily. Imperious though she might be, her own strategic ability had for the moment failed her. She was at a loss what to do herself, and so permitted him to "take the lead," figuratively.

It was she who literally led the way to the house. The man smiled. His first domestic victory!
Also, his last! Sobering thought!
Now a household despot—no other autocrat so mighty!—in a few moments, what?

His mind did not linger on lug-ubrious contingencies, however, as he followed his wife across the court.
It was briefly employed in esthetic contemplation. She certainly had a charming neck. Beneath the masses of hair, a tiny lock nestled on the white skin. He had not noticed it before. It was a most fascinating little lock, for one so haughty and proud-looking. It seemed to have been wound around Cupid's finger itself, to curl so coquettishly. Nothing stand-offish about it. It seemed to lure a lover's fingers, to invite a man to his own destruction.
That is, if the man did not have himself perfectly under control, as he had.

As they entered the house and passed into the mandarah, they could hear voices at the side entrance. The dervish paused while the girl went on. The caretaker was speaking and he was obviously doing his best, making the most of a thankless task.
"It is true I told the servant of Light of Life my mistress was not here," the dervish heard him say.
"It is also true that she is in the house now. But she was not here then. She arrived since."
"Liar!" came from without. "We have had the place well guarded.
And that beggar of a dervish—he is even now here with her—"
"Impossible!" Fervently. "By the beard of the prophet, what would my mistress want with such a heathen? A lady finely bred—a low mustahall?"

"He was seen to enter by the side door."

THE
RIVERA Great Story
of the
New West

By EDNAH AIKEN

THE author has taken for her subject the truly great idea of the reclamation of the American Desert which in a large degree depends on the control of the all but untamable Colorado River,
and subsequent extensive irrigation.

Thoroughly American in theme, ambitious,
many-sided, and yet unified.

There is an absorbing plot in which one strong man is set against another, the wife of one of them is shown in her restless vanity and scheming, and a fine young girl comes to her own in the love of a man worthy of her.

The River stands out from among current fiction as a novel that has the right to be heard.

neighbors. I have their word."

More shrilly.

"That fellow. Oh, he was but a seller of licorice water. Allah has cursed my good wife with a sweet tooth and the erk-rose but came to the door with his cup and went away again. By the sacred tomb of the prophet I even swear it is so, as you will see when presently I shall have orders to admit you." Again an answer from without which was followed by: "Such impatience! And from one who has really no right to come here, at all. She is not your wife now, though she will soon enjoy that honor once more. And I shall be the first to rejoice for her. But meanwhile it is fit to bring scandal upon her—you, an ex-husband? The law is plain in the matter. We could refuse to admit you altogether,
but we won't." Truly the fellow has a ready tongue. "My mistress is most complaisant. She has nothing to fear. She will even see you very shortly. My wife is with her just now—in the bath. Soon, however, she will be attired, and then—though, with proper precautions, and veiled, she may admit—"

Expostulations from the other side of the door! That angry voice the dervish remembered so well yesterday night in the inner court for the mosque! Threats! Matters were coming to a climax. Amad was not in a mental condition to cool his heels long on the door-step. "I will give you five minutes to open and deliver unto me this fellow. Not a minute longer! We know he is here and he can't get away. Why defer?"

A shadow fell across the black and white marble pavement near where the dervish stood, and turning, he saw the girl; over her arm were garments. At the end of the apartment was a recess, with arches, and this she indicated. There was no need for words. The recess, containing vessels of perfume, is designed particularly for rest and meditation. The dervish did not indulge in either, though the thought did cross his mind: Under proper conditions, what a place for a road-worn rover, after the shocks and knocks of the world—with one—the one, to bring you the water-pipe—
and then to recline, exhalting the fragrant tobacco, and to dream, the

while you regard beauty through

INCREASE TEA TAX TO FIGHT THE WAR

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Englishman hereafter must pay more for his tea. This blow fell yesterday when Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, announced various increased taxes. The tax on England's national drink was increased six cents a pound. The chancellor said he regretted this increase, "but it was the only way to catch the tea-totalators," who escaped an added tax on beer.

RAILROAD MEN BACK WITH DEER

Three La Crosse division railroad men, Roy Long and Otto Ristow of La Crosse and M. Van Wormen of Portage returned Monday night from Minocqua, each with a deer. The deer, shot in the pine woods of Oneida county, a few miles from Minocqua, are some of the best specimen of venison ever brought to La Crosse.

GIRL HOMESTEADER MARRIES NEIGHBOR

Former Viroqua Girl Goes West to Take Up Claim in Montana and Falls Victim to Cupid

VIROQUA, Wis., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—An argument over a boundary line between Miss Gertrude Glenn, formerly of this city, who left a year ago to take up a homestead in Montana, culminated in her marriage to Earl McGinnis, according to word received by friends here. McGinnis had taken up the adjoining claim. Some trouble arose over the line between the two pieces of land, and in settling the dispute the neighbors met. Romance followed, and Mr. and Mrs. McGinnis agreed to settle the boundary dispute by joining their homesteads and their lives.

SCORES CONGRESS FOR EXPENDITURES

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, addressing a university convocation here, said that the average daily national expenditures of the United States are as large as the total annual expenditure for the year 1790. The senator charged congress with a surprising lack of discretion in its choice of projects to be promoted at national expense. In their greed to secure large appropriations for their pet projects, he said, senators and congressmen forget every consideration as to the wisdom of the plan from the nation's point of view. He asked that voters realize their responsibility by sending to congress men who will spend the nation's money with an eye to the public good rather than for the good of their individual districts.

BLANKETS FOR THE HIGH TEAM

Red and black blankets will be presented to the football team by the faculty, in fulfillment of their promise with regards to the winning of the Sparta and Madison game. STEEL WORK DONE ON NEW VIADUCT

Building of Sidewalk and Paving of Roadway Only Work Left on "Safety First" Crossing

The steel work on the new Rose street viaduct is completed. The crew of steel workers left last night for Milwaukee.

The piling built to support the span while it was in the course of construction was removed today, leaving the tracks unobstructed for the entire span of more than one hundred feet.

Forms are being built around the steel framework for the concrete sidewalks on either side of the bridge. Practically the only remaining work on the big structure is the building of the sidewalk and the paving of the driveway.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

End Itching Scalp and Stop Falling Hair—At Once.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

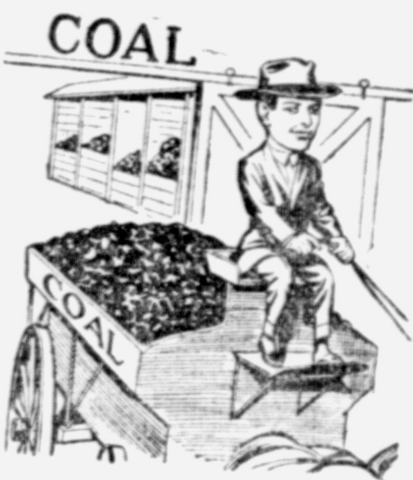

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

MILWAUKEE CIGARS DEAR
MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 18.—Lewis Oakley, a farmer living near Doylestown, Wis., today held the opinion that cigars come pretty high in Milwaukee. One that he bought in a down town saloon last night cost him $260, a black eye, and a torn vest. When Oakley paid for the cigar he inadvertently flashed a "roll." Three men followed him from the saloon. A block away they knocked him down, tore open his vest and took his purse.

SENATOR SHERMAN
QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 18.—Miss Billie Burke laughed heartily today when she learned that the man she ordered ejected from her private car last night was Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman of Illinois.

The senator boarded the train at Springfield all slicked up for a political meeting at Quincy. He was buried in a book when an attractive young woman across the aisle called the conductor and ordered: "Put that man out."

Senator Sherman protested that he had a Pullman ticket, but slid meekly out when told he was in the actress' private car.

GRAND RAPIDS, Wis., Nov. 18.—J. W. Hicks of Prentice gave the president's address before the Wisconsin Potato Growers' association here today. He declared that other states, notably Idaho, are planning to enter Wisconsin's potato market and capture the business, and he called upon the Wisconsin growers to meet this competition and win with superior goods.

"Wisconsin leads with her pure bred cattle," he said, "her splendid sheep and hogs, her horses and her seed grains, her butter, her cheese and her large returns from fertile acres. She should lead in the quality of her potato crop, and how she can do it is the question we are here to help solve."

SPARTACUS MOST ELABORATE FILM

It is doubtful whether any photodrama has ever been so elaborately staged as "Spartacus." George Kleine's latest and greatest marvel in motion photography. Magnificent interior and sumptuous exteriors representing a vast monetary expenditure are screened throughout the eight parts, subdivided into three parts of this stupendous achievement. Rome and Turin, the actual localities of the story of the revolt of the gladiators against Roman domination, of which "Spartacus" photodramatically relates in such a charming and fascinating way, are the locale of the various scenes. Seventy-five hundred persons acted and posed for this marvelous motion picture classic. The various leading roles are played by actors of feeling and ability and the characters are said to be very realistic. This absorbingly interesting visualization of love and liberty is announced as the attraction at the Majestic theater for three days, commencing Thursday, November 19, with daily matinees.

FRENCH PRAISE ZOUAVE CHARGE

Bayonet Dash which Dislodges Germans from Wood Reported in Paris Statement

PARIS, Nov. 18.—A brilliant bayonet charge by French Zouaves, driving the Germans from a wood which had been disputed for three days, was reported in the official communique today.

Terrible encounters have occurred all along the line between Dixmude and Ypres for possession of patches of wood in which Germans had taken up positions. The allied troops have, without exception, been forced to resort to the bayonet to clear these woods.

Isolated German infantry attacks have everywhere been repelled, the official statement declares. The bombardment of Rheims which was resumed two days ago continues.

DOES CUPID USE A HAIR NET?

Yes indeed he does. At least many times the attention of "the one man" has been caught by beautiful hair. Love stories all tell us of the heroine's beautiful hair because it is one of the features which most attracts men. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Adv't.

BARBER KICKS ON CONTROL BY STATE

Says County Should Have Right to Dictate Its Own Kind of Book-keeping

That the state board of control runs the West Salem insane asylum to suit itself, while La Crosse county pays the expenses and at the same time does not approve of the method of bookkeeping employed at the institution, was the statement yesterday afternoon of W. E. Barber, before the county board of supervisors.

Supervisor Barber asked for the adoption of a resolution petitioning the next state legislature to allow individual counties to select their own systems of bookkeeping for their public institutions. He declared that other counties would not have the system if it had not been "forced" upon them.

The resolution was laid over until the December meeting of the board. Supervisor Barber's complaint was that one without a technical knowledge of bookkeeping could not understand the system at the insane asylum.

The system installed at West Salem is the same as that installed in similar institutions and was put in to secure uniformity of system.

Argument on the question lasted for an hour.
Supervisors Keppel, Winter, Kleeber and others upheld the method.

TEN DAYS REMAIN FOR COMPLETING SHIPMENT OF FLOUR FOR BELGIUM

Ten days remain in which La Crosse must finish its shipment of flour for the non-combatant women, children and old men who are starving in Belgium as a result of the war's devastation of their country. Saturday, November 28, was today named as the last day on which contributions will be received. Within a few days thereafter the flour must be in Philadelphia, whence it will sail on the Northwestern Miller early in December.

That the local shipment will include more than 250 barrels of flour was the indication today, as the contributions continue to roll in. As the movement gathers momentum, it is spreading to the smaller cities about La Crosse, and the mail today brought individual donations from a dozen outside points. Among the towns represented are Houston, Lanesboro and Mabel, Minn.; De Soto, Bangor, Stoddard, Galesville, Coon Valley, Lynxville, Merrillan, La Farge and Sparta. Stoddard and Galesville have civic movements which will result in the purchase of flour from their local mills for addition to the shipment from La Crosse.

The fund is mounting with gratifying speed. Most of the amounts contributed are small, but there have been several contributions of $100, and a number of $25. The children are well represented in the fund, several packages of 150 pennies from kiddies' banks having been received.

The Brotherhood of American Yeomen, at their meeting in Linker hall last night, endorsed the Belgium flour fund and voted to add a barrel to the shipment as the gift of the order. Rowena Circle, the ladies' Card club of the order, will hold a card party Tuesday afternoon, and the proceeds will go to the flour fund.

MILLERS' BELGIAN RELIEF FUND

I am enclosing $....., for which please addsacks of flour to your shipment to Belgium.

WORK NEAR CITY ALL COMPLETED

Last of Wing Dams Near Wagon Bridge In and Menace to Steamboats Has Been Removed

BARGES STORED IN BLACK RIVER

Thirty-eight of Government Fleet There and Rest Has Been Taken to Fountain City, Wis.

It is probable that no more steamboats will become fast on sand bars below the Mississippi wagon bridge, as has been the case many times in the past.

Sixty thousand cubic feet of rock and brush have been placed on the Minnesota side of the river since government work on the Mississippi was resumed early this fall.

Eight wing dams have been placed at short intervals below the bridge by Captain W. A. Thompson, government engineer in charge of river improvement work here.

The improvement is a part of the six foot channel project. Captain Thompson accomplished his aim to clean up the work below the bridge this fall, in order that with the opening of the river in the spring, the work could be carried to another part of the river.

Four bids have been let to local contractors for raising and lengthening dams below and above La Crosse. This work will be carried on while the river is frozen.

Thirty-eight of the government barges have been moored for the winter in Black River, and the balance have been taken to Fountain City.

HOURS OF LABOR TO BE ENFORCED

The Industrial Commission Takes Employers Overworking Help in Superior Court

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—That the Wisconsin industrial commission does not propose to permit violation of the law limiting hours of labor for women employees is evidenced by records filed with the attorney general today. The city of Superior is the most recent field in which the state authorities have called employers into court, and convinced them that the law must be obeyed. Hopkins Bros., proprietors of a restaurant at Superior, have just paid a $60 penalty for requiring female employees to work in excess of the hours permitted by law. The action was started on six counts, the maximum penalty being $600 at a rate of $100 per day for each count. The defendant, however, offered to confess judgment for the minimum penalty, which was agreed to by the industrial commission and the attorney general. The judge of the Superior court in Superior thereupon fixed the minimum penalty of $60 which was paid. So far this plan has been followed in all cases of first offense for violations of this law when the accused has offered to confess judgment without trial.

NO INCREASE IN CHARITY CASES

Reports of General Secretary Nadia Thomas of the Associated charities and Marie Peterson, visiting and school nurse, read at the monthly meeting last night, showed that during the month of October the number of cases cared for in the two branches of the associated charities had not increased over the number cared for during October of last year.

WEDDING MUSIC LINOTYPE'S HUM

Not the Lohengrin or Mendelssohn's but the hum of the linotype machines was furnished while a wedding ceremony was being performed last evening in Winona. George M. Galster and Marie Schlock, both of La Crosse, were the participants.

"Can you direct us to a justice of the peace?" queried Galster at the independent office there, at the same time exhibiting a marriage license. He said he must have quick service. Judge D. E. Vance was nearby and arranged to meet the fiancé at the newspaper building. There was no need for going further. Galster went for his bride, returned and the first "print shop marriage" in the history of that city was speedily accomplished. It was performed in the presence of the "type stickers," the linotype men, the printer's devil, the pressman's crew and the editorial staff.

Husband is a Soldier. The bridegroom has been a soldier. He is serving in the south with the regulars. He came to La Crosse four weeks ago on a furlough. The bride was Marie Schlock of Hatfield, Wis., employed at the Stoddard hotel.

ENGLAND EAGER TO TAKE UP THE HUGE WAR LOAN

Long Line Awaits Chance to Buy Billion and Three Quarters of Bonds

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Indications today were that England's enormous war loan of $1,750,000,000 will be over subscribed.

A long line waited outside the Bank of England before the doors were opened. There was a steady stream of applicants for the bonds. To raise the great loan the government is making the issue at 95, bearing 3½ per cent interest and redeemable at par March 1, 1928.

George Horton, the American consul at Smyrna, Horton, with Leland B. Morris and James B. Wilkinson, is in charge of American interests there, but no direct word from him had been received for some days.

Tranquil Monday

The last report from Ambassador Morgenthau reached here Monday. It was in the nature of a roundup, but indicated that conditions were in the main tranquil. In it Morgenthau made no mention even of considering leaving his post for any purpose whatever.

Reports that the Tennessee and North Carolina might be immediately recalled from European waters, in order to avoid another "Maine disaster" were widely circulated after the report was confirmed of the firing of the shot. Secretary Daniels and other navy officials would not discuss the matter. The secretary declared that he had proposed to take one step at a time and that until after he received Captain Decker's report on the actual circumstances surrounding the incident he would not even consider the status of the cruisers.

The one thing which has caused more anxiety at the state department than the plight of the Tennessee, which admittedly can take care of itself, was the declaration by Captain Decker that Consul Horton was anxious for the safety of the consulate. This was interpreted to indicate that there was much anti-foreign sentiment in Smyrna.

BRITISH NAVY LOSES 3,677 MEN TO DATE

LONDON, Nov. 18.—England has paid the heavy toll of 3,677 officers and men killed in naval engagements to date.

Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, today announced in the house of commons that the British naval losses were 222 officers and 3,455 men killed; 37 officers and 428 men wounded; five officers and one man missing.

HAVE YOU NEURASTHENIA?

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggles for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

At a meeting of delegates from the various locals in the county, held in the branch office of the American Society of Equity in the Batavian bank building yesterday afternoon La Crosse county union of the American Society of Equity was formed. Officers were elected as follows: President—A. C. Godfrey, La Crosse.

Vice president—Wesley Dawson, town of Campbell. Secretary—treasurer—F. A. S. Price, La Crosse.

Carnahan Presides. J. H. Carnahan, Black River Falls, vice president of the Wisconsin branch of the Equity, presided at the meeting which was attended by delegates from the following locals: La Crosse, No. W. 6380; Barre Mills, No. W. 6280; Campbell, No. W. 6272; Mindoro, Equity Emblem No. W. 6286; Holmen, Lewis Valley, No. W. 6089; West Salem, Old Glory No. W. 6283, and Victory No. W. 6295.

Elect Delegates. Delegates were also elected for the state convention of the society to be held in Madison, December 2, 3 and 4. They are as follows: F. A. S. Price, chairman; J. O. Gaarder, La Crosse; M. C. Nelson, Holmen; Andrew Boyd, La Crosse; A. C. Godfrey, La Crosse; Henry Niefelt, West Salem; Herman Brocade, West Salem; William Hoth, La Crosse; Abner E. Smith, Holmen, and Wesley J. Dawson, La Crosse.

Lauds Andrew Boyd. Vice President Carnahan, following the election of officers, delivered an address on the "Value of Co-operation," during which he took occasion to laud the work of Andrew Boyd as manager of the new co-operative packing company.

HEAR REPORT OF CLUB'S DELEGATE

Tomah Shakespeare Club Told of Racine Convention by Mrs. W. E. Bosshard

TOMAH, Wis., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—The Shakespeare club met with Mrs. C. J. Wells on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. W. E. Bosshard who attended the convention of the state Federation of Women's clubs, at Racine, as a delegate from Tomah, gave a very interesting report of the convention. A solo, "Under the Greenwood Tree," sung by Hazel Wells and a piano duet by Miss Laura Bosshard and Margaret Warren were pleasant features of the afternoon.

The Sewing Circle of the Congregational church met with Mrs. F. S. Barrows, Jr.

Wade Woodworth, wife and children of Evansville, Wis., are the guests of his sister, Mrs. Clarence Nelson.

Mrs. C. R. Williams of Camp Douglas, spent Monday with friends. Miss Tillie Roeken spent Sunday at Camp Douglas.

The Mardi club met with Mrs. F. S. Barrows, Jr., last Tuesday.

LONDON ANXIOUS

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Every effort was being made by the admiralty to obtain confirmation of reports that a launch from the United States armored cruiser Tennessee had been fired upon by the forts at the entrance to the harbor of Smyrna.

The reports that Captain Decker, commanding the Tennessee first asked permission to enter the harbor, and upon being refused declared he would force his way in, has aroused the greatest anxiety here. It is felt that English, French and Russian citizens there must be in imminent danger if the commander of a neutral warship should consider such drastic action necessary.

GERMAN SHELTERS REPORTED SPOILED BY THE FLOODS

Teutons Said to Be Repairing Bombproofs Along Coast Under Heavy Fire

PARIS, Nov. 18.—German troops on the line from the coast to below Dixmude are working under heavy fire to repair the bomb proof shelters of their trenches before the allied lines.

The waters which flooded the fighting area caused many of these shelters to collapse. The Germans have therefore been completely exposed to the shell fire of the allied artillery. Their losses have been enormous.

Weather conditions along the coast are improving. To the north the fog has lifted sufficiently to enable the allied warships to get into action. The heavy rains about Neuport and Dixmude have practically ceased. It is now turning very cold, however.

Fresh French troops of the second line are about to take up positions along the battle front. The Belgian troops, which have been in the field constantly, are being relieved. Fresh levies are also available to take the place of the French forces which have been in the trenches for the past two months.

Heavy artillery fighting continues along the Aisne. The bombardment about Rheims has been resumed and the altar of the famous cathedral is said to have been damaged by a shell.

BYERS' JURY STILL OUT

MORRIS, Ill., Nov. 18.—After several hours' deliberation without reaching a verdict, a jury today still held the fate of Mrs. Emma Hutton and Lillian Byers, sisters, who are charged with the murder of their brother, Emanuel Byers, a wealthy farmer. The case went to the jury at 5:30 last night.

DAVE ROSE SAYS HE'S OUT OF GAME

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 18.—David S. Rose, mayor of Milwaukee for five terms, said today that after forty-one years in politics he was "through."

These are the reasons he assigned: "Those you do the most for betray you when they get a chance; you can't be honest and make money; the people are fickle, and the idol of today is the Judas of tomorrow; you're the slave of a 'system.'"

Oklahoma Senator Regrets

MONEY TRUST'S GRIP IS BROKEN

Oklahoman Says United States Is Entering a New Era with Government
Getting Closer to People

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—That the money trust is to blame for the "hard times" in this country, but that the grasp has finally been broken was the statement of United States Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, who was in Madison last night enroute for Rockford, Ill., where he is to lecture.

"The bad times the last two years have been due largely to the restriction of credits by the powers comprising the so-called money trust, consisting of 125 men with 236 directorships, controlling twenty-two and one-half thousands of millions of property," said Senator Owen in explaining the reason for the recent hard times.

"We are entering on a new era, and the men who have heretofore exercised commercial and financial tyranny over the citizens of the republic—republicans, socialists and democrats—will no longer be able to exercise the very dangerous power of the recent past."

Senator Owen, who is chairman of the National Popular Government league, and who is one of the leading authorities in the country on the initiative, expressed regret over the defeat of the initiative and referendum in Wisconsin and scored the democratic state convention for voting down these proposals.

"I extremely regretted the action of the democratic state convention in Wisconsin in voting down the endorsement of the initiative and referendum because the initiative and referendum is vital to giving the people themselves control of the governing functions," continued Senator Owen. "With the initiative and referendum the people can pass any law that they want to and veto any law that they want to. Nobody understands this better than the special interests do and therefore the special interests, such as the breweries and insurance companies, in Wisconsin could be relied upon to lock arms against the initiative and referendum as the instrumentality through which people could protect themselves against either the excesses of the liquor traffic, or the undue charges of insurance companies."

Brought Direct Election
Senator Owen said that the direct election of United States senators was due to the initiative and referendum in Oregon. He says the initiative and referendum is the instrumentality through which the freedom of the people of this country will be assured.

"The enemies of the initiative and referendum are the enemies of the people," he added, "whether they know it or not, though most of them know it."

"BABY HAS KICK COMING"

Few parents realize, or even think of the possibility, that babies need exercise. Two of the best ways they get it are by crying and kicking. Both are apt to be shut off somewhat in better class homes. Kicking and squirming are interfered with by clothing. Even a "perfectly good baby" can't be expected to break the bonds of buttons and safety pins and make a dash for liberty.

It is a practice of one of the leading Milwaukee children's specialists to prescribe a ten or fifteen minute exercise period for every normal baby for whom he is medical supervisor. He directs that during this period the child be taken in a warm room and all clothing removed. The child is then placed upon a firm pad and is allowed to squirm and kick with complete freedom.

Another medical man who has given a great deal of study and attention to medical gymnastics for the correction of deformities has made it a practice to devote a few moments each day to the massage and physical training of his own babies. He states that is was a matter of amazement, even to him, how much could be done in the physical upbuilding of a child by gentle resistance of the baby's movements. By that I mean a form of gentle wrestling carried on only so far and so long as the baby shows signs of enjoyment. This same man is of the belief that babies who have formed the habit of sleeping upon their "tummies" without a pillow are much more apt to have straight and strong backs than are children who sleep in any other position. Even very young babies can turn their heads from side to side without assistance, so that there does not seem to be the slightest possible danger of a healthy infant's burying his face and thus smothering.

The mattress of the baby's bed should be firm. In making up the bed, as in that of a grown-up during cold weather, the body should be insulated against cold air currents coming up through the mattress from

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

BILLIARD CRACKS

IN TOWN TONIGHT

Sutton and Demarest Will Play in Scheduled League Match; Rivalry Strong Between the Two Men

George Sutton, the billiard veteran of the world, and Calvin Demarest, one of the youngest but at the same time cleverest cueists in the sport world, will meet tonight at the Lotus parlors in their scheduled match in the Billiard Players' league. The two men arrived here today from Madison where they played last night.

The style of play this evening will be 18.2 ballline billiards, a change from the old policy of the league of 14.1 ballline. The change in the game is expected to bring out faster and more interesting play.

The rivalry between the two men is strong. Sutton at present leads the league with Demarest close at his heels. The youngster seems unable to force ahead of the seasoned veteran of the cue.

SPARTAN IS HONORED

ELMER ABRAHAMSON PICKED AS MOST VALUABLE PLAYER ON THE LAWRENCE COLLEGE SQUAD

APPLETON, Wis., Nov. 18.—At the opening of the Lawrence college football season it was announced that certain competent judges had been appointed to watch the individual work of each member of the squad and at the close of the season, the player having the best record should receive a silver reward.

This morning a miniature silver football was presented to Elmer Abrahamson of Sparta, picked by many who have seen his work this season as one of the strongest players in the middle west. Abrahamson scored more than half the points made by Lawrence this season.

STAGG SAYS GRAY IS OUT FOR YEAR

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Without batting an eye, Coach Stagg told the Maroon followers today that Dolly Gray, backfield star, will not be in the Minnesota game Saturday. Stagg said he had advised Gray to hand in his football togs and nurse his injured ankle for the 1915 baseball season.

KOLE LEAVES FOR WINNIPEG FIGHT

Former La Crosse Boy Leaves Minneapolis for Canadian City to Meet Tommy Burns

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 18.—(Special.)—Jimmy Kole, local featherweight, and his manager, Jack O'Rourke, left last night for Winnipeg, where Kole will meet Tommy Burns, Canadian champion, in a fifteen round mix tomorrow night.

Kole is out for a knockout and is confident that he can turn the trick. The lad has been training hard for the last few weeks and is in the height of condition. He will finish his work tomorrow with bag punching, shadow boxing and rope skipping.

NORMAL PREPARES FOR TURKEY GAME

Men Confident of Beating the High School in Their Annual Tilt on Thanksgiving

The normal school football team is still in the race. Although defeated Saturday by Plattville they are not discouraged and will put forth their best efforts to defeat the high school team on Turkey day. Rumors that the game will be postponed on account of the highs having a championship game to be played on Thanksgiving were denied today. The normals have never beaten the high school but the chances were never as rosy as at present. The team was not materially weakened by their drubbing Saturday with the exception of a few bruised and sore spots. Art Strum is back in uniform and will undoubtedly be in his position the day of the game. Light practice is the program for the pedagogues the first of the week with stiffer drill later.

CORNELL HELD BY SNOW

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 18.—A heavy snow which chased the Cornell eleven into the baseball cage yesterday kept the men indoors again today. For the first time they are drilling the squad in forward pass formations.

Much Perfume in Dining Hall.

An Athenian host always had his dining hall perfumed when about to give a feast, and his drinking cups scented with myrrh, while during the course of the entertainment slaves sprinkled sweet essences upon the guests. In those days the perfume shops of Athens were the centers of gossip, intrigue, love and politics.

WISCONSIN EAGER TO BEAT ILLINOIS

Juneau Asks for Old Stars to Return to Camp to Help Put Fight Into the Men for the Illini Game

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—With every man in the lineup, except Paul McMaster, whose leg was badly injured in the Minnesota game, Coach Juneau's men went through a stiff session of practice at Camp Randall Tuesday afternoon. The men are working harder than ever in a desperate attempt to come back in an eleventh hour victory over the Illinois near-champions next Saturday afternoon.

Coach Juneau has sent out a call for old football stars to return to the training camp and help instill a little of the fight into the men which succeeded in holding Chicago several weeks ago. The students are wild for a victory over Illinois, and both coaches and men are straining every nerve to get into condition for the last game of the season. As far as the rooters are concerned, there is just as much interest attached to Saturday's game as there would be if Wisconsin had succeeded in defeating Minnesota last week.

The absence of McMaster from Saturday's lineup is a still blow to Coach Juneau's hopes of turning the trick, however. The big fellow will in all probability not be able to get into the game on account of his injured leg. It is a question also as to whether or not Arlie Mucks will actually get into the fray.

TEXANS FORWARD GLOVE TO ILLINI

Vanquishers of Mississippi and Champs of the South Issue Challenge to Illinois for Western Title

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 18.—Having swamped Mississippi by the score of 67 to 7 yesterday, the University of Texas looked around today for new worlds to conquer. Discovering Illinois clinging to the western conference title, the Texans put forth a challenge. They want to play for the championship of the region west of the Alleghenies.

CORN HUSKERS ARE EAGER TO GO EAST

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 18.—In case the athletic management at Harvard university is willing, the Nebraska Corn Huskers stand ready to meet Coach Haughton's gridiron warriors in a post-season football game for the national title, the receipts to go to the Red Cross fund for the relief of the European war sufferers. Should Yale win from Harvard next Saturday, the same proposal holds good as to the sons of Old Eli.

ERDAHL OUT FOR SEASON

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 18.—That Art Erdahl, former star quarterback of the Gophers, will be unable to meet Chicago, was the realization that today brought considerable consternation to the Minnesota football camp. He has been unable to stand the three hour scrimmage now a feature of Dr. Williams' punishment of the Gophers and indications are that he is out for the season.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach aches, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you get rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush out the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. Chas. A. Bevschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

MINNESOTA AFTER TIE WITH ILLINI

Gophers Will Tie with Illinois if They Tie Staggs and Wisconsin Beats the Suckers

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 18.—Minnesota football fans have not yet conceded the conference title to Illinois. If Minnesota cleans Staggs' men at Chicago next Saturday and Wisconsin defeats the Illini, then Minnesota will tie up the Illini for first place. Wise ones, however, say that while Minnesota has a chance to take the Staggs men in camp, yet Wisconsin has little chance of beating the Illini and the Gophers will probably finish second, with the Illini first.

Doc Williams caused a little sensation on Tuesday when he announced that, realizing Staggs had scouts at the Wisconsin and Illinois games, he would make their carfare and expenses a dead expense to the Maroons by entirely changing all plays. Because the same doctor made something from nothing when he in two weeks lined up a team that defeated Wisconsin, it is believed he will do as he promised.

ARMY HOPES TAKE ONE BIG TUMBLE

Probability that McEwan Will Be Unable to Play Against the Navy Damps Hopes of the Cadets

WEST POINT, N. Y., Nov. 18.—Army's hope took a turn for the worse today when it was learned that McEwan was more seriously injured in yesterday's scrimmage than was at first expected. Goodman probably will replace him in the navy game.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 18.—The navy team that will start against West Point a week from Saturday, will be decided on today. The coaches planned this afternoon to send the Scrubs against the Regulars in Army formation.

PRIZE BY RUDOLPH PROVES INCENTIVE IN BIG BIKE RACE

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Two hundred dollars put up as a sprint prize by Pitcher Dick Rudolph of the Boston Braves provided the incentive for some fast work by the six day bicycle riders at Madison Square Garden early today. As a result there were ten leaders some four miles ahead of the 56-hour record at 8 o'clock, having made 1154 miles and 8 laps. The former mark was 1150 miles and 9 laps.

Bedell and Bedell and Thomas and Hanley, were one lap behind the leaders, the newly constructed team of Dupuy and Piercey were five, and Kopsky and Hansen eight laps in the ruck. Drobach was setting the pace at 8 o'clock.

GIBBONS AND MOHA FIGHT AT HUDSON

HUDSON, Wis., Nov. 18.—Mike Collins of the Hudson Boxing club on Tuesday announced that Mike Gibbons and Bob Moha would be the topliners in his opening show of the winter season at Hudson, December 4. While Moha has not yet signed articles, he is expected to do so today.

KANSAS MEN "FIRED"

LAWRENCE, Kas., Nov. 18.—Coleman, Fiske and Craig of the Kansas university football squad, were "fired" from the squad today by Coach Wheaton. The charge was "indifferent playing." Wheaton said he would continue these tactics until there is a reversal of spirit. Kansas learned today that Missouri will send 2,000 rooters to Saturday's game here.

MANDOT BEATS STYLOR

BOSTON, Nov. 18.—Joe Mandot of New Orleans was declared winner over Milburn Stylor of Indianapolis in their twelve round bout at the Atlas Athletic club last night. Mandot's style of milling took the crowd and throughout there was plenty of action.

Failure.

Whatever may be said of "fail," the lexicons of a coroner's jury in Michigan certainly contain the word "failure," as witness the finding: "We, the jury, find that the deceased came to his death from heart failure, superinduced by speculation failure, which was the result of failure to see far enough ahead."—Modern Merchant.

His Heart Failed Him.

The young man had threatened suicide if she rejected him. And, although she did, he didn't. "Why didn't he?" was asked. "Said he'd given his heart to her." "What's that got to do with it?" "Oh, he didn't have the heart to kill himself."

Lightening the Burden.

Our misfortunes are often lightened by relating them.

GALLANT WON FAIR FROM LEACH CROSS

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Gilbert Gallant last night proved to New Yorkers that his defeat of Leach Cross in Boston fourteen days ago was no fluke. The Bostonian's argument consisted in two raps on the jaw which floored the east side dentist. Gallant's work throughout was finished. His boring attack and foot work was much like that of the once Terrible McGovern. Of the ten rounds Cross led in three.

YALE DEPENDS ON TOE OF PUMPELLY

Brickley to Find a Worthy Rival in Man Who Tied Score with Tigers Two Years Ago

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 18.—Charley Brickley of Harvard will have no monopoly of the hero stuff in the Yale-Harvard game here on Saturday. He will have to split 50-50 with Harold Pumpelly, whose drop kick tied the score against Princeton two years ago. Pumpelly has been out for weeks and is far from recovering, but if Yale drives to within field goal distance Pumpelly will be called on to "pull a Dobson."

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 18.—The last real practice for the Harvard squad will be held today in the stadium. Light scrimmage work is the program laid out.

DIES ON WAY TO REVISIT HOME

James E. Mohan, Formerly of Rushford, Dies While Waiting to Cross
Border to U. S.

RUSHFORD, Minn., Nov. 18.—
James E. Mohan, whose death was reported a few days ago, was born upon a farm about five miles northeast of this city, in June, 1870. With the exception of several years spent in attending school in Lanesboro, his boyhood and young manhood was spent upon the farm and in the city of Rushford to which place he and his parents moved in 1898. His father died in 1908 and soon after James moved to Minneapolis with his family, afterwards going to Saskatoon, Canada. Last spring his health began to fail very noticeably and in June he went to a Saskatoon hospital. But he had a great longing to see the old home-state again
and decided to return to Minnesota.
Being a British subject it was necessary for him to go through certain formalities before he could cross the line to the states, and it was while waiting for these forms to be completed with, that death came to him.
He is survived by his wife and two little daughters.

The Ladies' Missionary society of the Rushford Presbyterian church held their usual monthly meeting at the church parlors last Saturday, Nov. 14th. Mrs. Wm. Brunner conducted the devotional exercises, the home topic being New Mexico and the foreign topic being Mexico. At the business meeting of the society
it was decided that the ladies would hold their annual Christmas sale December 5, and set the date for the usual Missionary meeting of that month, a week earlier.

Personals
Mrs. Whitman, of Decorah, Iowa, has returned to her home in that city, after a visit with the family of Herman Olson.

The home of Mrs. G. W. Rockwell
of Brooklyn, has as a guest, Mr.
Alonso Pickett, of Carimona, Minn.
He will remain here during the winter.

Miss Laura Wright of St. Olaf's College, Northfield, has been a recent visitor at the home of her father, Rev. A. Wright, of Brooklyn.

Mr. Lewis of Steven's avenue is the guest of his son in Chicago.

Olaf Johnson, and family are now housed in their new home on Ferry street. The residence property was formerly owned by Miss Caroline Erickson.

Miss Annie McKay, of Hart, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Moore, in this city.

Mr. T. H. Stephens, who for several months was employed as forman at the Star-Republican office in this city, has accepted a similar position in a printing office at New London, Wis.

G. O. Overland will hold an auction of various goods on his farm near the Highland Prairie church, next Thursday, Nov. 19th.

Miss Loretta Hennessey, who has been having a week's vacation from her school work, has again resumed
her duties as teacher in a school near Spring Valley.

There will be held at the home of Mrs. John Eggen, in this city, a W.
C. T. U. parlor meeting on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 21st at 3:00 p. m.

Mr. Marquard of Lansing, Iowa,
has been a recent guest of Rev.
Bantley's family, Mr. Marquard being an uncle of Mrs. Bantley.

Mr. Groezinger, of La Crosse, her father,
is now enjoying a visit with the family, having accompanied her home
from a recent trip to the latter city.

Miss Esther Johnson, whose home is in Mapleton, but who is here for the winter, is acting as clerk in the City bakery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wilkinson, of Gordon, Wis., have been recent guests of the Charles Nicholas home in this city.

Mrs. Alfred Ness and Miss Clara
Johnson of Ferry street are in Mabel
the guests of friends and relatives.

The annual "Lutefisk Supper",
given by the ladies of the Rushford Lutheran church, will this year be held on Nov. 19th.

Miss Jane McLaughlin has been a recent visitor in La Crosse, being accompanied home by her sister, Miss Kathryn. Both ladies went over to Chatham later in the week, Miss Jane returning to this city.

A double enrollment in the space of three years is reported by the School of Music of the University of Wisconsin. In the year 1910-11, including the summer session, 316
students registered in the various courses of music; in 1913-14 the enrollment had increased to 644. The greatest increase is shown in the number of students in other colleges electing music, and in the number of summer session students.

from about 90 outlying points of North America. From this information a weather map is made up with tabulated statements. Within little more than two hours from the time of observation some 300 of these maps are off the press and in the mail. The forecast alone is sent to a list of about 800.

Recent permission has been granted
local forecasters to predict for a longer period in case of county fairs and similar undertakings if the weather is not in too rapid a state of change.

Other Wisconsin stations are established at Milwaukee, La Crosse, and Green Bay. Wisconsin also receives service from the Dubuque, St. Paul, and Duluth offices. Statistics show that the bureau attains
an accuracy in prediction of about 90 per cent on the average for the country as a whole.

"RUSSIAN TROOPS" WERE ONLY EGGS

LONDON, Oct. 30, by Mail to New York.—Rumors of Russian troops crossing
England early in the war
grew out of a carelessness of a telegraph operator. He omitted the word "eggs" in a message from a Scottish dealer to a London buyer
which, as received, read:
"Fifty thousand Russians
arriving tonight."

TO PERFORM ANCIENT RITES

Thrilling dramatic episodes taken from the religious ceremonies of the ancient Aztecs and Toltecs and other mighty races of red men of the past will be reproduced throughout next year by a large cast of actors, supported by musicians, dancers and a chorus, engaged by the San Diego exposition. None of these ceremonials has been held for several centuries and a few of them are traced back through five thousand years to a period where the mist of antiquity
conceals all knowledge of the dead nations.

This is the awaited announcement of the exposition in the far southwest
as to its program of special events.
There will, of course, be the usual
state days and special events of that character. The ceremonies, as reproduced after centuries of neglect,
are based on careful studies made in scientific libraries during the past year and on research made by the explorers whom the exposition, with

School of American Archaeology, sent into Central and South America two years ago.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty
their bowels, which become clogged
up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.
Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless,
cross, feverish, breath bad, or cold doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups.
Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs,"
which has full directions for babies,
children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle.
Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

to the credit side, as charged by the prosecution, was told at Tuesday's

OUCH! PAIN, PAIN. RUB RHEUMATIC, ACHING JOINTS

Rub pain right out with small trial bottle of old
"St. Jacob's Oil"

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right into your sore, stiff, aching joints and muscles, and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn the skin.
Limber up! Quit complaining!
Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, sore-ness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica,
neuralgia, lumbago, backache,
sprains.

session of the Siegel trial before Judge Clark, by Robert G. McKeekin, secretary of the Siegel Stores corpora- tion.

"On January 21, 1913," said Mc-Keekin, "the Simpson-Crawford company owed the Siegel corporation approximately $700,000. A resolution passed that day by the executive committee composed of Siegel, Vogel and Max Pam, called for the wiping out of $658,000 of that indebtedness.
I protested that I had only $607,560
in notes of the Simpson-Crawford company and that therefore it would not be right to do this. However, the resolution went through. As a result, $607,560 was cancelled, and the remainder of the amount, $50,450, was carried on open account."

McKeekin explained that the resolution was passed after he had refused Siegel's request to use the $50,- 000 working capital of the Siegel Stores corporation to wipe out some of the Simpson-Crawford indebtedness, McKeekin said he refused "because it wasn't right."

START YIELD CONTEST

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—A high yielding ear contest will be started at the thirteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association to be held in Madison, December 15-17.

Every member will be allowed to enter this contest and exhibit at the grain show a single ear of victorious and high yielding No. 12 of Golden Glow corn grown upon his own farm during the past season.

An equal number of kernels will be shelled from each ear and planted next spring in special plots to be reserved for that purpose on the Experiment Station farm.

An illustrated lecture course in the appreciation of music is offered
students of the University of Wisconsin. Previous musical knowledge and technical skill are not required for admission.

EUROPEAN WAR AFFECTS WEATHER

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 18.—Even U. S. Weather predictions are affected by the European war. Instead of seven day predictions, no longer period than four days is now attempted. This is due to lack of reports of observations from Siberia,
Japan, and other eastern countries.
"The standard period of prediction is 36 hours," says Eric R. Miller, lecturer in meteorology, University of Wisconsin, and local weather forecaster, U. S. weather bureau.
